

Dzala General Contractor Expands Kitchen and Bathroom Remodeling Services Across Northern Virginia

Dzala General Contractor LLC · September 14, 2026

TYSONS, VA — September 10, 2026 — Dzala General Contractor, a design-build firm based in Tysons that has served Northern Virginia and Maryland homeowners for more than a decade, has expanded its residential offerings with a renewed focus on custom kitchens and full bathroom renovations across its service area.

The company operates as a licensed and insured kitchen remodeling contractor for clients across 12 cities, including Tysons, McLean, Vienna, Oakton, Great Falls, Arlington, Alexandria, Falls Church, Reston and Herndon in Virginia, along with Bethesda and Potomac in Maryland. Kitchen projects begin with a free in-home consultation and a 3D design homeowners approve before materials are ordered, followed by a written, itemized quote that fixes the scope and price in advance. Selections for cabinetry, countertops and tile are guided in sequence rather than all at once, and most kitchen remodels in the region are completed in four to eight weeks, with cabinetry lead times and stone countertop templating typically setting the pace.

The expanded scope also covers bathroom remodeling , ranging from full gut renovations and tub-to-shower conversions to ADA-accessible baths built with barrier-free showers, non-slip flooring and wider doorways. Bathroom projects incorporate Kohler and TOTO fixtures alongside Italian marble and other natural stone, with typical costs in Northern Virginia running from $12,000 to $60,000 or more depending on layout changes and finish level. Waterproofing, slope and ventilation are addressed before any finish is selected, a sequence the company says protects the long-term durability of the room, and most bathroom projects are completed in two to four weeks from demolition to final walk-through.

The company's recent Home Remodeling work has been highlighted in a broader industry feature examining how regional contractors are scaling services while maintaining a single point of accountability for each project, from initial design through the final punch list.

Dzala General Contractor reports 47 Google reviews and describes its portfolio as built primarily on referrals rather than advertising. Its stated mission centers on remodeling solutions designed around the client, executed with precision and built to hold up well beyond the final walk-through, and the company continues to add capacity across its kitchen and bathroom divisions to meet demand throughout its Virginia and Maryland service area.

The company attributes its growth to a design-build structure that keeps framing, plumbing, electrical and HVAC coordination in-house rather than routed through rotating subcontractors, along with attention to details such as trim returns and tile layout that are inspected at every stage of a project rather than only at handover. Alongside kitchens and bathrooms, Dzala General Contractor also handles basement remodeling, whole-home renovations, home additions and commercial interiors, giving Northern Virginia and Maryland clients a single point of contact across multiple rooms or phases of a larger project.

Homeowners and business owners can contact the company directly to schedule a site visit and receive a written, itemized estimate before any work begins.
