PRESS RELEASE

NextDAY Cabinets Beltsville Showroom Announces Strategic Partnership with Kith Kitchens to Expand Selection

NextDAY Cabinets Beltsville Showroom

December 17, 2025

NextDAY Cabinets Beltsville Showroom has announced a strategic partnership with Kith Kitchens that will significantly expand product accessibility for contractors and builders throughout the Maryland and DC Metro region. The collaboration brings together two industry leaders to offer an enhanced selection of kitchen and bathroom cabinetry through the Beltsville location at 5801 Ammendale Road.

The partnership enables professional contractors, dealers, and builders to access products from both companies through a single location, streamlining procurement processes for residential and commercial projects. The expanded inventory includes a comprehensive range of RTA Kitchen Cabinets and bathroom vanities, addressing growing demand from multi-family developers and remodeling professionals in Prince George's County and surrounding areas.

"This partnership represents a significant advancement in how we serve the professional contractor community in Maryland," said a spokesperson for NextDAY Cabinets Beltsville Showroom. "By combining our resources with Kith Kitchens, we can offer an unprecedented selection of quality cabinetry while maintaining our commitment to fast lead times and competitive wholesale pricing. Our customers can now access an even broader range of styles and price points, all backed by the quality assurance they expect."

The Beltsville showroom serves as a regional hub for cabinet distribution, offering both warehouse pickup and job site delivery options. Professional contractors benefit from the facility's extensive inventory of KCMA-certified products, including offerings from established brands such as Forevermark Cabinets, Shiloh Cabinetry, Waypoint Cabinets, and Wolf Home Products. The partnership enhances the showroom's capacity to serve large-scale projects while maintaining the personalized service that independent contractors require.

As a Cabinet supplier to the professional trade, NextDAY Cabinets has built its reputation on providing all-wood construction products with industry-leading three to five day lead times. The partnership with Kith Kitchens strengthens this position by expanding design options across traditional, contemporary, and transitional styles. The collaboration particularly enhances the selection of bathroom vanities, offering moisture-resistant materials and configurations suitable for both single-family homes and multi-unit developments.

The Beltsville location continues to offer complimentary 3D design services, enabling contractors to present professional visualizations to their clients. The showroom's design consultants work directly with trade professionals to specify appropriate products for each project's requirements and budget constraints. Volume discount programs remain available for qualified dealers and contractors managing multiple projects.

NextDAY Cabinets operates six showroom locations throughout the region, serving wholesale customers exclusively in the professional contracting and building industries. The company specializes in providing factory-direct pricing on kitchen cabinetry, bathroom vanities , and related accessories. The Beltsville showroom operates Monday through Friday from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM and Saturdays from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM, offering flexible scheduling for busy contractors and project managers.

MEDIA CONTACT

+18004405948
beltsville@nextdaycabinets.com
5801 Ammendale Rd A, Beltsville, MD 20705, United States