NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom Expands Professional Design Services for Northern Virginia Contractors

NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom

February 05, 2026

NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom, a wholesale distributor serving contractors and builders throughout Northern Virginia, has expanded its professional design services to meet growing demand from trade professionals seeking comprehensive project support. The enhanced services include advanced 3D kitchen design consultations at no additional cost, streamlined project planning tools, and dedicated support for multi-family developments.

The expansion responds to increased demand from contractors and builders who require both quality cabinets and professional design expertise to complete projects efficiently. The Chantilly location, situated at 14000 Thunderbolt Pl, Suite K, serves as a central resource for trade professionals across Fairfax, Loudoun, and Prince William counties.

The showroom features an extensive selection of all-wood cabinetry from leading manufacturers, including Shiloh Cabinetry, Forevermark Cabinets, Waypoint, and Wolf Home Products. All products meet KCMA certification standards, ensuring durability and environmental safety for both residential and commercial applications.

"Professional contractors need more than just a cabinet store - they need a partner who understands project timelines and budget constraints," said a spokesperson for NextDAY Cabinets Chantilly Showroom. "Our expanded design services combined with our 3-5 day lead times help contractors deliver exceptional results while maintaining their project schedules."

The professional design team provides detailed project consultations that include space planning, material selection, and comprehensive project visualization. These services particularly benefit multi-family project developers and general contractors managing complex installations across multiple units. The showroom also stocks bathroom vanities, flooring solutions from MSI and Shaw Flooring, and countertop options spanning various price points.

Beyond design services, the Chantilly location offers practical advantages for busy contractors. The facility provides warehouse pickup options for immediate needs and coordinates job site delivery throughout Northern Virginia. Cabinet door samples are available for client presentations, and the team assists with specification development for commercial projects.

As part of the expanded services, the Chantilly location now offers enhanced support for dealers through its volume discount program. The facility maintains a comprehensive inventory of traditional, modern, and contemporary cabinet styles, including framed and frameless options, shaker designs, flat-panel configurations, and custom solutions. Contractors can access wholesale cabinets directly, eliminating middleman markups while maintaining quality standards.

The expansion reinforces NextDAY Cabinets' position in the Northern Virginia market, where demand for quality cabinetry and professional support continues to grow. The company operates six regional showrooms, providing contractors with convenient access to products and expertise across the Mid-Atlantic region.
