February 27, 2026

The Slimee, a children's entertainment company specializing in slime-making experiences, has announced the expansion of its birthday party packages at its Paramus Park Mall and Garden State Plaza locations in New Jersey. The expansion responds to growing demand from families seeking unique celebration options that combine creativity, science education, and hands-on entertainment.

The enhanced party packages now accommodate groups ranging from intimate gatherings to celebrations of up to 150 children at the Paramus Park Mall location. Each Paramus Kids Party includes a guided slime-making workshop where children create their own customized 8-ounce fluffy slime under the supervision of trained facilitators.

"We've seen tremendous interest from parents looking for birthday party experiences that go beyond traditional entertainment," said Zeynep Kocacal, founder of The Slimee. "Our expanded packages allow us to serve more families while maintaining the personalized attention and creative engagement that makes each celebration special."

The all-inclusive Kids Party packages start at $449 and feature aprons and safety glasses for all participants, a selection of beads, charms, and glitters for slime customization, two large pizzas, complete tableware, and full setup and cleanup services. Each party runs between 1.5 to 2 hours, depending on the location and group size.

The Paramus Park Mall location offers completely private party spaces seven days a week, while the Garden State Plaza location provides private party options on weekends and semi-private celebrations Monday through Thursday. Both locations maintain strict safety protocols with non-toxic ingredients suitable for all ages.

The expansion comes as more parents seek educational entertainment options that engage children in hands-on learning experiences. The slime-making process introduces basic chemistry concepts while allowing children to express their creativity through color selection, texture choices, and decorative elements.

"Every Kids Birhtday Party becomes a memorable experience when children can take home something they created themselves," added Kocacal. "The pride they show in their custom slime creations and the excitement of the making process create lasting memories for both the birthday child and their guests."

The company requires a $200 security deposit to secure bookings, with a minimum two-week notice for any date or time changes. The booking process has been streamlined to accommodate busy parents, with instant confirmation available for selected dates.

The Slimee operates as a women-owned business committed to providing inclusive, LGBTQ+ friendly environments for all celebrations. The company maintains a 4.9-star rating based on customer reviews, with families consistently praising the engaging activities and professional staff.

Beyond birthday celebrations, The Slimee offers various booking options including Express Slime Lab sessions, Full Experience workshops, and seasonal camps. The company's trained facilitators guide participants through each step of the slime-making process, ensuring safe and successful creations for all skill levels.

The Slimee continues to serve families throughout northern New Jersey with its unique blend of entertainment and education, providing stress-free party planning solutions for parents while delivering engaging experiences for children.
